Description

Light up your get-togethers, work and play spaces, or wherever you go with this BenQ GV1 ultra-portable battery projector. Simply designed for totally wire-free fun, GV1 instantly streams movies, videos, music and more with Wi-Fi, Bluetooth, and USB-CTM connectivity.
GV1 includes a convenient tilting hinge at its neck, letting you project the big picture at the perfect height to view comfortably. Its 15° range means that the 100" projected image can be raised up to 77 cm above the level where GVI is placed.
With phones, tablets and laptops switching to USB-C, you can also connect to GV1's single USB-C port. This handy port can also simultaneously charge your device or play videos and music from a USB flash drive.
GV1's advanced LED projection light source lasts 30,000 hours for years of spontaneous instant-on entertainment. Its LED-powered high brightness showcases big-screen entertainment up to 100".
GV1 becomes a battery-operated portable Bluetooth speaker at the touch of a button, bringing crystal-clear music wherever you go. Its powerful 5W chambered speaker fills the room, all without any wires.
GV1's 3-hour battery life gives you plenty of time to enjoy full-length feature films with friends and family, catch up on your favorite shows, tune in to the big game, or even play one yourself on the big screen.
