Description

Producing laser-like text and graphics and being ideal for creating glossy photos as well as everyday printing, DURABrite Ultra ink is not only an innovation in ink technology but the perfect partner for Epson printers for both home and office.

The resin coated pigment particle provides a layer of protection that allows the colorants to remain near the surface of the page, creating distinct and bright colored prints. This enables documents to be created that resist highlighter pens and lab-quality photos.

The quick-drying formula allows documents and photos to be handled immediately after printing. Prints and photos are water, smudge, and highlighter resistant, ideal for printing essential reports and archival documents.

Save money on individual ink by only replacing the color used, making it a cost-effective choice. If you're looking for an ink that delivers exceptional quality and durability, it can only be Epson DURABrite Ultra ink.
